Trading at Home.

There have been numerous articles written on the subject of "Trading at Home" and, by the way, most of them are truly good and, at least, worth the passing attention of our good folk. Here are some arguments which we think worthy of the notice of our readers: When the catalogue comes from your mail order house, draw an easy chair to the table, where the light will shine full upon the page, and put on your glasses that no bargains may escape your eyes.

What a wonderful book it is, to be sure! Wonderful for what it does not contain, as well as what it does. You will miss some things you would be glad to see.

Where is their offer to exchange goods or pay cash for your wheat, oats, corn, beans, butter, eggs and hay?

How much do they pay for cattle, sheep and hogs, f. o. b. at your depot?

How much tax will they pay to support your schools and educate your children; for improving roads and bridges; the support of the poor of your country; for the expense of running the township, county and state?

On what page is their offer to contribute money to the church?

What line of credit will they extend to you when your crops are poor and money gone; when through illness and misfortune, you are not able to send cash with your order for your groceries, clothing, farm tools, crockery, stoves and ranges? Where is their offer to contribute to your entertainment next year?

What did they do last year?

In short, will they do anything to provide a market for what you have to sell and thereby keep up the value of your estate? Will they do anything for the social, church, school or government support, or do they take the dollar out of the community with no returns except the goods you buy?

Piles quickly and positively cured with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. It's made for Piles alone—and it does the work surely and with satisfaction. How People Get Rich

Have you ever stopped to think how much money other people have, and how they get it? Do you know how they get rich? Look any of these men, and in each case you will find that some years ago they learned how to make a little money do a whole lot of work and now they have big incomes.

Why don't you do the same? There is no use in expecting to get rich by placings in a bank where you will draw 3 per cent per year. No man ever did. Have you ever stopped to think with the money you have that you could in a few years build up your capital and be a rich man? Will you let me tell you how to do it?

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

I have one of the best Concrete Machines on the market—a machine that will supply the greatest necessity known to the building world. The demand for these machines is increasing so fast that I must have more capital to handle the business. For this purpose I am incorporating a company. The capital stock will be $100,000, divided into shares of $10 each. You can buy this stock now at $10 a share—in a few years it will be worth $100.

MY GUARANTEE

I will guarantee you 25 per cent on every dollar you invest, and should you be dissatisfied at any time, I will buy back the stock at the purchase price of $10 a share. If you come in with me on this, you will have to be quick about it. You can buy this stock for cash or on the installment plan. Address all correspondence, and make all remittances to—

Fifteenth Amendment Must Go, says Vardaman.

Announcement of a carefully planned campaign to secure the repeal of the fifteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, that gives the negro equality with the white man as a citizen, was made by Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi, who was in Chicago last week, while attending the railway surgeons' convention.

Gov. Vardaman, who is seeking election to the United States Senate, declared that if he wins a membership in the upper house of congress, he would make his fight on the floor of that body, believing that he had the support of the entire South.

He insisted that a crisis in the relation of the races in the Southern states was at hand, and that the problem of white supremacy or black domination should be settled at once.

"I favor unqualifiedly and without reserve the abrogation of the fifteenth amendment to the constitution," said Gov. Vardaman, "and it is my hope through the United States to demonstrate to the nation that there is only one practical way of settling this matter, and that is by plainly showing the negro his proper place in our system of government."

The race question must be settled, and that very soon. It cannot be disposed of, however, until the nation as a whole has been convinced that there is a distinction between the white and the black.

"The laws now specifically recognize the difference between the white man and the Indian, the Chinaman, the Esquimo or the Malay. There is just as wide a gap between the white man and the negro."

"The negroes in the South are becoming more criminal every day. Notwithstanding the millions of dollars we have spent in attempting to educate them, they are becoming more disrespectful of law and more animal like in their characters and desires."

"How will the abrogation of the fifteenth amendment change conditions?" was asked.

"It will simply place the negro where he belongs," replied the governor, "is an outcropping of the desire to attain social equality fostered by the present legal equality the amendment recognizes and compels."

"It is to get to the senate there will be an opportunity to speak to the entire nation. The North will know what the South already knows, that the climax of the situation is at hand. It will come to appreciate that Thos. Jefferson was not speaking of the negro when he said that all men were created free and equal. He knew then that the negro was a mere chattel."

"How soon do you expect this crisis?"

"It is nearly due," said Gov. Vardaman. "The matter of white supremacy or black domination in the South is at fever heat and the sooner the North and West realize this, the better it will be for the nation."

ALWAYS WAS SICK.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.

Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." For sale by Cowgills Drug Store & Helm & Ellison.

C. C. General Freight Agent Dead.

George R. Knox general freight agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, died at Nashville Friday after an extended illness. Knox was sixty-two years old. It is said he was the oldest general freight agent in point of service in the United States. He entered the service of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad in 1860, and was general freight agent in 1896.

Mr. Knox was a man of strong determination and tenacity of purpose, but also a strong believer in peace and harmony. Many of his associates have preceded him in the great beyond, and latterly his voice has been largely with the younger generation. He always elicited a cordial interest in the younger generation of railroad men, and for years to come the memory of Geo. R. Knox will be cherished with veneration and respect.

21st Psalm of Today.

The politician is my shepherd, I will not want any good thing that he will give me. He leadeth me into the saloon for my vote's sake; he filth my pockets with red cigars, my glass of beer runneth over. He prepareth my tickets for me in the presence of my better judgment. Yea, tho I go through mud and rain to vote for him, he shout myself hoarse when he is elected, straightaway he forgetteth me, tho I meet him in his office, he knoweth me not. FELLOW DEMOCRATS.

Fellow Democrats, this is our last issue before the primary and our last opportunity to admonish you to remember the duty you owe your self, your family, your town and the honor and name of your state. This duty, as we have told you frequently, is to poll a vote next Tuesday, Nov. 6th, that will bring the standard of state government high above reproach; that will elect a ticket that will place in office, men who have characters above reproach, who are making a campaign that is clean, honest and upright—men who will, if placed in office, conduct the affairs of that office in an honest, upright, legitimate way. This is the class of men we need, this is a class of men we have not now, and a class of men that must be placed in office at the next election, to keep the grand old state from deplorable shame and disgrace.

Gentlemen, Attorney-General N. B. Hays is making the race for governor. He is making an honest race. True, he is abused by his opponents, but they dare not abuse his character nor his official record, for they know that when they do so, they are perpetrating the most infamous lies.

The question now comes for you to decide what sort of state government you want for another term. If your conscience, your manhood and your respect for yourself, your family and your loyalty to the democratic party and the grand old Commonwealth of Kentucky, tells you you want an honest government, vote for this man; and if your conscience, manhood, respect and loyalty tells you you do not want such, do not vote for him, for this is the government you will get if he is honored with this high office.

WATTERSON TALKS.

Col. Henry Watterson, having grown tired of the "knocking" of Gov. Beckham, who has missed no opportunity to charge that the Courier-Journal is fighting him, fires a broadside into the Governor in Thursday's issue of the Courier-Journal. After pointing out that the Governor had no warrant for making such a charge, Mr. Watterson says it is his purpose to vote for Senator McCreary. "If this is a crime," says Mr. Watterson, "the Governor may make the most of it; but though the editor be hanged for it, he will never consent that he is an innocent and disinterested Democrat, his allegations in his own behalf being three in number and as follows, to-wit:

"First, that Senator McCreary is better qualified for Senator, or for any other position of honor and trust than Gov. Beckham.

"Second, that Senator McCreary, being the sitting senator, and having discharged the duties of Senator with distinction and fidelity, it would be an act of ingratitude and folly on the part of the party he has served so long and so well to turn him out.

"Third, and finally, that Mr. Watterson believes the defeat of Senator McCreary and the choice of Governor Beckham would seriously endanger at the ensuing election the ticket thus named by the primary, for the reason that by persuading no other rule of policy than that of 'you scratch my back and I'll scratch your back,' Gov. Beckham has lowered every standard and weakened every tradition which in days gone by made for the exaltation of Kentucky at home and its glory abroad."

In another part of the same article Col. Watterson says:

"There are men of the baser sort who are satisfied with nothing but adulation. There are spoiled ones of fortune grown arrogant by indulgence. Gov. Beckham talks not only like a man beaten, but like a man balked of that which he had made sure of and claimed as a right.

He should have thought twice before placing such absolute reliance upon a deal involving the highest legal tribunal in the State and two seats in the Senate of the United States. Even dog-eat-dog politics has its obligations and limits."

A surveying corps is now locating and determining the grade for the Hickman-Henson railroad. It is expected that construction work will quickly follow and that in less than ninety days trains will be running over the new track.—Charleston Mo., Enterprise.

Brother, are you sure that you are not laboring under an optical illusion, as was our brother the Courier, last week, when he said the material was on the ground? We haven't seen any dirt fly, nor heard any clink of the hammers and spikes yet. The right of way agent was in Hickman a month ago and wanted not more than fifteen days option on the right of way; last week he returned and asked for all that could be spared. We think there is no doubt but that the work will eventually be done, but of course it is a matter of time. The winter is upon us now, and are you sure construction work will begin before spring?

A short time ago we were accosted by a Beckham supporter and asked how much money we were being paid to support Senator McCreary for United States Senator. Now, if one stops to think, this is an open insult to an honest newspaper man. A newspaper that does such a thing as that is one that is always pointed to by a contemporary forever afterward with scorn as one that can be bought, or other words, is what we judge the Messenger calls a "wishy-washy" newspaper. However we do not resent the insult that was given us, but will merely state here that Senator McCreary never paid us one cent for supporting him, and that if he had offered to pay us for such we would not be supporting him today. He is a man of clean, moral and official record and thus the man we need in the office he seeks. And the other man is not—hence our attitude.

General Percy Haly, adjutant general of Kentucky, is accusing the editor of the Frankfort Crusader, of forging a letter, with his name attached. The intimation that the general can write a letter will be received with some astonishment.—Obion Tenn., Enterprise.

My dear Tennessee brother, you have troubles of your own over there. However, we expect you came near hitting the nail on the head.

There is not a republican paper or "wishy-washy" democratic paper in the State that is not doing all in its power to bring about the nomination of Mr. Hays for governor of Kentucky.—Mayfield Messenger.

Now we don't know what he means by a "wishy-washy" democratic newspaper, unless perhaps he means that he "wishy" he could get some campaign dough and when he gets it, "washy" his conscience and goes ahead. If this is the case he should "flop" right now.

One frequently hears during a campaign the statement: "My ballot won't have any bearing on the result, and there is no use in my going to the polls." Men who habitually make this statement forget that they do not stand alone. Public interests have suffered greatly in the past by the stay-at-home vote. One ballot by itself does not greatly count, and yet in the aggregate these stay-at-home ballots would in many cases have changed results. And there have been many instances where even a single ballot might have turned the scale.

As a result of failure to raise the necessary amount of money to pay the general expenses of the Democratic State primary, McCracken county may not participate in the primary at all, and the situation is declared to be critical. Little interest is being taken in the primary, and the committee has only $150 now on hand.

A Letter From Dr. Adams.

We were requested to print the following, which is from Dr. Adams, in support of Beckham, and which is clipped from the Louisville Post. The request was made to show both sides of a question; which we do not object to doing. The voters may decide the question themselves. Mr. Adams first public letter was answered in full in the Courier a few weeks previous, which should be satisfactory to the voters:

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 26, 1906.
So many letters have come to me in response to my circular letter of September 20 that I find it impossible to answer them all personally and explain the questions they propound. About 80 per cent. of these answers have been favorable, and the remainder have in some degree or other, expressed a contrary mind.

I have no quarrel with those who disagree with me. I am looking Kentuckians in the face and expressing my honest convictions on the issues of this campaign, and will submit gracefully to whatever is the verdict of the people. If Gov. Beckham be nominated for the United States Senatorship I shall rejoice in the defeat of the solid liquor element who propose to punish him for his advocacy of temperance legislation. If his opponent be our next United States Senator, or whoever may fill that office, I will be his loyal supporter in that position.

I make no apology for my utterances, but desire to reassert and reaffirm all the positions taken in the letter of September 20. My good friends who are indulging themselves in excited criticisms should not be unduly disturbed and should remember that every Kentuckian has a right to express his honest convictions without prejudice and in entire good feeling.

The Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky is not responsible for my statements. All I have said has been on my own personal responsibility. I have fought with this league for years and am not ashamed of the record. The fact that I am president of the league does not prevent me from asserting my right in the exercises of free speech.

My reason for taking a position in this Senatorial race is in no sense political. All other issues such as administration, anti-administration, machine or anti-machine, local quarrels or anything else, are nothing as compared with the supreme issue, which is: shall the saloon forces control the public and political life of Kentucky? From the beginning of the last session of the Legislature to its close Gov. Beckham stood by me as a faithful co-worker in the long and bitter fight for the enactment of the county unit bill. Now that the liquor forces are endeavoring to encompass his defeat because of the active assistance he gave the temperance people in that conflict, it would be a base ingratitude in me to desert him when the battle rages. Whatever other temperance people may think, I consider myself under personal obligations to all who assisted me, including Gov. Beckham, in any fight waged upon them by the liquor element. I could not be true to my conscience if I deserted Gov. Beckham, in any fight waged upon them by the liquor element. I could not be true to my conscience if I deserted Gov. Beckham or even kept silence, in this contest; and, furthermore, I stand ready to aid with all my power any man, be he administration or anti-administration Democrat or be he a Republican, in any fight which may be waged against him in which the liquor question is the issue.

My residence in Frankfort for nine years has made me acquainted with the records on temperance legislation made by many public men in the Legislature and other positions.

It is being freely charged that Gov. Beckham first tried to defeat the county unit bill, then finding he could not, turned in its favor and saddled on it an amendment satisfactory to the liquor interests in the cities, while at the same time he was endeavoring to please the temperance people in the country. Any statement of this nature coming from any source whatsoever, is positively false. Persons who are making these statements know nothing about the facts in the case. If anyone knows more about the history of the county unit bill in the Legislature than I, I do not know his name. From start to finish Gov. Beckham followed every suggestion made to him by those managing the fight for the bill without weakening once to the demands made by the liquor people. Examine the Committee on religions and Morals in the House and you will find it composed of honorable gentlemen who would not stoop to the dirty tactics practiced by some hostile committees in the past, but gave it speedy passage to the house, where it could be voted upon its merits. If Gov. Beckham and his friends had wanted to defeat the county unit bill it could easily have been done by the appointment of a hostile committee.

After a hard fight in the Senate the original Cammack bill was defeated, and a substitute therefore passed, which was acceptable to the liquor people and for which the liquor Senators voted. It was also favored by several temperance Senators who, we believe, were deceived as to its true nature and who thought it a fairly good measure. Many temperance people out in the State wrote to me advising that this substitute be accepted as on its face it seemed to them a fairly good thing. This substitute was a dangerous thing. Those who know something of the principles and history of our local option laws could see at once its gravel defects. The enactment of that measure into law would have been a blow to temperance cause in Kentucky.

I have no apology to make for uttering these convictions, I have no fear of hostile criticism. I am conscientious in my stand. If people think likewise I shall be happy; if they register a different opinion I shall accept the result with perfect good feeling. Truly,

M. B. Adams

GULLION MEN TALK

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 26, 1906.
My Dear Friend:

As a school man my interest in the coming Democratic Primary is in the nomination of a School Superintendent. I am interested in this for two reasons: a Democrat I feel a pride in being my party offer the best available man to the voters of the Commonwealth. As a school man my heart and strength have been given to the cause of education. I am doubly interested in having elected to this office who is capable, progressive, and whose experience in school work will grapple intelligently with the long question of the day: how may the country people have educational advantages as the cities?

Feeling that these two ends will be more nearly gained in the nation and election of Hon. Gullion than in that of any of his opponents, I shall gladly vote him. He is a man and a Democrat of whom no Kentuckian need be ashamed when it comes to voting the regular election. He is a man and a life-long Democrat. Above all he is pre-eminently fitted, both by training and experience for the sacred office to which he aspires. He is not only educated, but his training is peculiarly fits him for Superintendent of Public Instruction has been a rural school as teacher, and Superintendent of County Schools his long experience as superintendent of the county schools places him in close touch with the humblest school in the State, and in sympathy with poorly paid, struggling teachers everywhere. His many years experience as county superintendent has made him familiar with the entire school system, knows the strong and the weak places, and he can intelligently direct its operations from his office, while one without such experience would be at sea during great part of his administration.

Loving Kentucky as we do, we want to take from her the days of illiteracy. Before we can make much progress we must have a man who is tried and true. Such a man is Gullion. His nomination is little opposition at the regular election, because both Democrats and Republicans recognize his worth as a general superintendent of schools. His election will inaugurate a new era in education for rural Kentucky, something which we can all desire.

Yours,
M. A. Gullion

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 4, 1906.

My Dear Friend:

I am writing to you in the name of Mr. E. A. Gullion, of this county, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. I am sure that you will be pleased to know Mr. Gullion. During his long service as County Superintendent of Carroll county, as editor of a paper at New Castle, in both positions he has been an ardent advocate of improved education. In later years, using the columns of his paper advising the cause of Kentucky schools.

During my term of office many improvements have been made in education. Two Normal schools have been established, the term increased from five to six months; the State capital has grown to $3.30, the largest in the history of the State. I have planned much other work that has greatly rebound to the benefit of the schools, and elected, I am satisfied, that Mr. Gullion will push the plans to execution.

I shall remain in school work as a member of this State Board of Education, and as such will be identified with the cause of education.

Thanking you for your cooperation in the past, and trusting that you will help Mr. Gullion in the State primary, Nov. 6, I beg to remain, Yours very truly,
Jas. H. Fugate,
Supt. Public Instruction

College Letter.

On Friday afternoon, Oct. 20, the High School Literary Society rendered an interesting program comprising recitations, music, readings, essays, a paper and a debate.
The most exciting number was the debate on, "Government Ownership of Railroads," argued by Fannie Kearby and Frank Smith for the affirmative, and Willie Bondurant and Lida Moore, for the negative. The "Newsboy," edited by Harold De-Bow, who is developing encouraging editorial talent, was spoken in humorous and enjoyable.

Last week the pupils of the College were organized into a military company which drills at the morning and noon recesses. A drum has been secured, a large bass drum has been arranged for and banners may be used in the near future. The evolutions and maneuvers of the long line of marchers remind one of the times "in an endur' war." The pupils enjoy the drill so much that they can hardly keep their faces straight enough to meet the rules of the army.

The Senior class this year reaches the number of ten, the largest class going forth from the college for follows: Victoria Bondurant, Loto Cavitt, Ruth Ellison, Ruby Fleming, Russell Johnson, Fannie Kearby, Mary McDaniel, Mayme

Naylor, Ruby Seay and Jessie Wall.

Social Entertainments of the Week.

EMBROIDERY CLUB.

At the home of Mrs. E. E. Reeves Wednesday afternoon, the Embroidery Club was entertained in what the guests declared a "simply royal" manner. According to the Courier's informant, refreshment, too delicious to describe, were served in two courses. Just before leaving, each guest was presented with a realistic souvenir, representing a little black slave, in the form of a pen wiper, made from the "wish bone" of a chicken. The head and feet were made of sealing wax. An evening of enjoyment for all was the result of the efforts of the hostess.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

The home of Mrs. D. W. S. Amberg was the scene of much pleasure, comic pleasure at that, on Hallowe'en night. The guests were the neighbors and each one, upon being invited, was requested to "dress funny and act funny." The home was decorated for Hallow'e'en with pumpkins, corn, apples and autumn leaves, and upon entering the door a card asked each guest to take seats on the floor, which was done in a very comical manner, upon sofa pillows provided for the occasion.
The comical dress and the comical manner in which each one seated themselves made the occasion as effective and realistic as was desired and planned by the hostess.

Some prizes were given, a pumpkin to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Millett, a pumpkin pie to Dr. Hubbard and wife and a bowl of cookies to Mrs.
Mattie Prather. Everyone was given an envelope in which was instructions as to what they were required to do, and no excuses accepted. This provided fun for all, for poor fellows, they did things unconsciously, which they would not have done knowingly. Comical songs enlivened things generally, and so when, after bidding host and hostess good night, they found a work bench in front of the door and a delivery wagon tied to the front gate, the trick of the Hallow'e'en observers elsewhere, to retard the egress of the guests, after they had spent one of the most enjoyable evenings of their lives.

The new engine has been received and is being erected at the Ice & Coal plant, for the purpose of running the dynamo. It has not yet been completely erected, but it is thought it will be running by the first of next week. It is a high speed engine of about 100 horsepower.

Changes in the Cabinet Announced.

The following statement regarding the prospective changes in President Roosevelt's cabinet has been made public at the White House:

On the retirement of Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Moody from the cabinet the following changes will be made:

Secretary of the Treasury—Hon. George B. Cortelyou.

Postmaster General—Hon. George Von L. Meyer.

Attorney General—Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

Secretary of the Navy—Hon. Victor H. Metcalf.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor—Hon. Oscar S. Strauss.

The general understanding for some time has been that Attorney General Moody would retire on January 1, and that Secretary Shaw will follow him March 4 next.

On the first day of the year, therefore, Mr. Bonaparte, who is now secretary of the navy, will succeed Mr. Moody as attorney general, and he will in turn be succeeded by Mr. Metcalf, the secretary of commerce and labor, the latter place being filled by Mr. Strauss.

Mr. Cortelyou, now postmaster general, will take Secretary Shaw's place on March 4, at which time Mr. Meyer is to become postmaster general.

The appointment of Mr. Strauss caused considerable surprise, as it will be the first case where a citizen of the Hebrew faith has been made a member of the president's cabinet.

He was born December 30, 1850, and is well known as a merchant, diplomat and author. He represented the United States as minister to Turkey on two different occasions, and was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy caused by the death of former President Harrison as a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

School Teacher Missing at Columbus.

The following was sent the Appeal by the Hickman correspondent:

On Monday morning when the pupils of the Columbus, Ky., school assembled to resume their studies it was discovered that Miss Dollie Thomas, one of the teachers, was missing.

During the day it developed that on Friday night previous Miss Thomas had secretly departed via South Columbus on one of the Mobile and Ohio mid-night trains, and so far she has not been heard of, although her family has made diligent search for the missing young lady.

As she bought no ticket, the agent can give no clue to her destination or the direction she traveled.

Miss Thomas is a beautiful girl of the blonde type and is about 21 years old. Her home is at Oakton, Ky., a small place about six miles south of Columbus. She taught expression in the Columbus public school.

Six acres of ground will give you a nice lot for a house.

A nice poultry yard.
A nice garden.
A nice orchard, etc.

There is now a good road passing directly in front of these lots, leading from West Hickman to East Hickman.

There is also a foot-bridge across the ravine that will lead you direct to the city.

I will build within the next five months a good, substantial drive-way across this ravine which will give you a direct drive-way to the city.

These lots will be sold for one-half their real value. If you do not want to build, buy for an investment.

These are the only first-class building lots left.

The town has grown very rapidly within the last five years, and will grow more rapidly in the next five years.

If you are thinking of buying a place to build do not delay as this is an opportunity that you now have and which you may never have again.

Upon investigation you'll find the description given of these lots to be absolutely correct.

First come, first served.

Notice!

You will Never have
This Opportunity Again!

I now have for sale five 6-acre lots.

These lots are within six blocks of Clinton street, the main business street of the city.

These lots are within two blocks of the street the churches are on, and seven blocks from the Hickman College.

You are just out of town—and right in town, being only 10 minutes walk to the business street.

These lots lay just outside of the Corporation, the line running just in front of them, you will therefore not have to pay any city tax, yet you will have every advantage that the man inside the city limits has.

In preliminary surveys, etc. in section with the monster dam that is to be constructed across the Mississippi river at Evansville, Iowa, completed Monday and it is expected that the actual construction will commence immediately.

The constructed dam will furnish a flow which will generate 211,000 horsepower, much more than any dam at the present time.

The dam is being promoted by a syndicate aggregating $300,000,000 capital, which has already spent $100,000 in preliminary surveys, etc.

A Notice to Our Patrons.

Hickman, Ky. Oct. 10, 1906
Our Patrons:

We published a notice in the Hickman Courier for four consecutive weeks that all light and water bills be paid and payable at our office by the first of each month and failing to pay on or before the first of the month would be cut out. But on cutting in is $1.00 each for water and lights.

Now on account of our not having a permanent office we have not enforced this rule strictly. But as our office has now been fitted up in the Ice Factory Building, convenient to all, we beg to state that we will enforce the rule beginning Nov. 1st and will show no favoritism.

To run the Water & Light plant necessarily necessitates prompt collections and we ask it as a favor of all of our patrons assist us by paying these bills promptly.

This rule was not originated by us, but is in the City Ordinances governing the Electric Light and Water Works system. Phone 48.

A Carrier Dumped.

A rural mail carrier by the name of Washam was compelled to "drill" back from the country a distance of four miles Monday morning, while his wife took the mail on. This fellow Washam, whom we know quite well, began to deal out a lot of republican "stuff" until his democratic wife ejected him out of the mail wagon and made him "hoot" it out to Mayfield. He has promised to be good until after the election of the president.—Mayfield Messenger.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Use the bitter elements of life as medicine and feed on the sunshine.

Time is never lost that is spent in leading any person into a better life.

Don't neglect your children until they are grown and then complain because they neglect you.

Give your children good books, and plenty of them and then help them understand what they read.

Habits formed in youth are very apt to stick to you in after life. Young people who now spend every dollar they can raise, are not apt to be thrifty in after life. Those who go in to waste company and use rude language will naturally associate with the ruder class in years to come. Many parents never seem to think of those things, but allow their children to drift along just as it may happen.

Sympathy does not lighten a burden of sorrow, but it does help the burdened one to bear his load. If, therefore, you know of a sorrow which presses another's heart, give expression to your sympathy with him, even though you understand that he alone must struggle under the weight of his burden. In one sense your words cannot help him; in another sense they can. Speak them out, therefore, for what they may be worth. He will be grateful for them and you will be the better for their speaking.

Solomon's description of a lady is complete: "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life. She girdeth her loins with strength and stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, she giveth aid to the needy. She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is purple and fine linen. Her husband is known in the gates. Strength and honor are her clothing. She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness." Strength, honor, wisdom and goodness and virtue are her requisites. A woman strong and womanly in all her ways in whom the heart of a woman can safely trust—this is the perfect lady.

Don't complain of your husband to anyone, not even your own mother. If she is the wise woman you think her she will respect you all the more. Did you think when you married your Will or your Harry that he was the one perfect man in all the world, and now you have found out that he is very human, after all? That it does seem sometimes as though he loved himself a little better than you? That he can even bear to differ with you sometimes in matters that concern you very much? And, oh, dear little woman, that he will forget just what you want him to remember sometimes? Now just take our advice and don't tell anybody. He is your husband and your other self—and you ought to cover his faults, just like you do your own.

Parental love, conjugal love, filial love are the keystone to that arch that supports the pillars of government and keeps our social system secure. As a rule anarchists have no children. No, nothing to love but themselves. As a rule the poor love their children better than the rich, for riches will in time absorb a man and absorb his best emotions. With the poor the children are first, with the rich they are second. The law of compensation comes into everything in this life. The good and the bad; the joys and the sorrow are kindly mixed by a wise Providence. Then let us all be content with our lot. Let us not look over the fence to envy our neighbor, for we know not his secret sorrows. Let us not trouble our own house for fear we shall inherit the world.

Honour the dear mother. Time has scattered snow flakes on her brow, plowed deep furrows on her check, but is she not sweet and beautiful now? The lips are thin and shrunken, but those are the lips which have kissed many a hot tear from the childish cheeks, and they are the sweetest lips in the world. The eye is dim, yet it glows with the soft radiance that can never fade. Ah! yes, she is a dear old mother. The sands of life are nearly run out, but feeble as she is, she will go farther, and reach down lower, for you than any other upon earth. You cannot enter a prison whose bars can keep her out; you cannot mount a scaffold too high for her to reach, that she may kiss and bless you in evidence of her deathless love. When the world shall despise and forsake you, when it leaves you by the wayside to perish unnoticed, the dear mother will gather you to her arms and tell you all your virtues, until you almost forget that your soul is disfigured with vices. Love her tenderly, and cheer her declining years with holy devotion.

If an authoritative bulletin were to be issued this moment from the court of heaven that in just seven days the earth would be destroyed, what passion do you think would survive the work? Would it be hate, or envy, or ambition or the love of gain? Oh no; of all the passions that animate the human breast, the one to endure would be love. There would be a rush to grasp love's final opportunity. Mothers would gather children about them, and there would be no impatience, no putting aside of bothering little arms, no withholding of caresses because they disarrange hair or lace. There would be no turning the boys out into the street for the reason that in their play at home they were prone to make havoc with the tidies on the chairs and bric-a-brac on the shelves. There would be no lack of knowledge as to where the girls are in the evening or at train time, when the depot is swarming with loafers. Indifferent husbands and nagging, bickering wives would forego their coldness and their quarreling, to vie with each other to redeem the past during the brief time allotted them. Friends would be more faithful, lovers more true, associates more thoughtful of each other's comfort as the swift hours sped away. But we need no bulletin from heaven to acquaint us with the briefness of love's opportunity. The span of our day is already set, and we wonder if the thought of home to us may not quicken us to improve the chance to brighten our homes with the full and constant shining of love that is in our hearts, although dimmed and corroded by the world's environments of life.

Rev. G. H. Stigler filled his regular appointment here Sunday and Sunday night.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Curlin, Mr. Edward Harpole and Miss Murel Harper were united in bonds of holy matrimony by Rev. Stigler. The event was a consummation of several years courtship although the wedding was prearranged possibly for a few days only and hence without special ceremony or attending functions, only a few relatives and friends being present. Miss Harper was a very popular young girl and admired for those qualities which grace and enable womankind; enshrines the altar with beatitudes of matrimony and widowhood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Harper deceased, one of the county's best families. The groom, Mr. Harpole, comes from one of Jordan's best families and is a noble young man and is worthy in every respect of the fair young bride he has won. They will reside with Mrs. M. L. Harper and will be at home after the 30th.

Dave Laswell, of Elizabethtown, Ky., has a large Russian mulberry tree that begins bearing fruit in May and continues in full bearing until November. The chickens are very fond of the ripe mulberries, as the berries fall on the ground, and live for six months under this big tree. After eating the mulberries for a short time the hens lay eggs colored like those used at Easter.
